Abstract of Mr. Chua's Talk

Insight of Promoting Gender Equality in View of the Polarization of Socio-economic Status of Women

The raising socio-economic status of a portion of women brings in positive influences but at the same time changes social culture and public expectation on females. On the other hand, grass-roots women become vulnerable under the widening gap between rich and poor. Therefore, polarization development of women's groups should be taken into consideration in relation to the promotion of gender equality.
